Levine Gives Russian Talk Here Jan. 17

By Grace Jahn

Russia — Khrushchev — Irving R. Levine.

What's the connection? The Artist Series Committee will provide the answer when it presents Levine, noted news correspondent, who will speak on "American-Soviet Relations in 1960," Jan. 17 at 8 p.m. in Knights Gym.

Levine has spent the past four years in Russia as a radio and television correspondent for the National Broadcasting Company. He was the first American radio-TV correspondent granted accreditation by the Russian government since 1947.

Levine Helps Himself

It was only through his own efforts that Levine was allowed behind the Iron Curtain. In 1955, after having waited two years for a reply to a visa application, he sent a radiogram to Nikita Khrushchev asking that he be allowed to accompany a delegation of farmers going to visit Russia. His request was granted 10 days later.

During the five weeks he spent with the farmers, Levine sent other telegrams asking that he be allowed to stay in Moscow as NBC's permanent correspondent. The direct approach worked, and he was given permission to stay.

Since 1955 the correspondent has shot thousands of feet of film for NBC-TV, has traveled across Central Asia and Siberia, has visited farms and factories and has been on hand to report the visits of such dignitaries as Marshal Tito, Konrad Adenauer and

A veteran newsman at 35, Levine received his master's degree in journalism in 1947 and then launched into a newspaper career.

He joined the International News Service and covered top assignments all over Europe. When the Korean War broke out in the summer of 1950, Levine was rushed by INS to the battlefront.

Work Wins Awards

Levine's work in Moscow, where he lived at the National Hotel facing the Kremlin, has won him many awards, including the Overseas Press Club honor for "the most outstanding radio and TV reporting from abroad" in 1957; the "Headliners Award" the same year; and a citation from the National Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of the Ten Most Outstanding Young Men in America.

His book, "Main Street, U.S.S.R.," published last year, was hailed by critics as one of the most informative and entertaining of recent books on developments behind the Iron Curtain.

Band Presents 'Concerte Informale'

HOMEWORK FOR the music man lays spread on the desk of band general Robert E. Lee as he studies the score of one of the numbers to be presented tomorrow night. The Band will present its first concert of the season at 8 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium.

Performance Of Light Tunes Slated At 8 p.m. Tomorrow In Knights Gym

By Don Keene

Wartburg College Concert Band performs in "Concerte Informale" tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium.

Under the direction of Robert E. Lee, the band will present show and semi-classic tunes. These include "Kiss Me, Kate," "South Pacific," "Three Blind Mice," "Porgy and Bess," "Manhattan," "Hans Christian Andersen," "Five Mellow Winds," "Arrangers' Holiday" and "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise."

Alpha To Sing

Alpha House male chorus will be featured in "South Pacific." The "Aristocrats" include Tom Christiansen, Romaine Foege, Bob Herfortb. Norm Litzner, Paul Schmitt and Larry Stumme.

"Three Blind Mice" is a flute trio selection with band accompaniment. Trio members are freshmen Julie Mensing. Vivian Johnson and Muriel Stuepfert.

Skay Featured

Eddie Skay, junior, plays the cornet solo "Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess." Oboist Mary Markle, sophomore, takes the lead on "It Ain't Necessarily So" and junior Doug Kutschat plays "I Got Plenty of Nothin'." all from the same score.

"Five Mellow Winds" by David Schanke, a tribute to Glenn Miller, will feature saxophonists Gail Lovold, Marilyn Schlake, Carmelia Peters and Dorothy Hansen, and clarinetist Pat Dieterich. For a change in tempo, a German Band will play the theme of a well-known television show.

'Holiday's' Fun

"A Twinkle Wrinkle," subname of "Arrangers' Holiday," will provide real entertainment for the audience, according to Director Lee.

Winnie Wandersee plays a quick beat drum solo in "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise."

"I am enthusiastically looking forward to the concert Sunday night," stated Lee. "I am sure it will be enjoyable, both to the band and to the audience. This is music that everyone loves to play or listen to."

Bob Rosenberg, junior, will introduce the program and numbers.

Kingston Trio Pops Choice; Solons Look For $ Support

The Kingston Trio headed the list of Pops Concert performers selected by Student Body vote before vacation, announced Concert Chairman Dave Jensen Monday.

Reporting to the Student Senate, Jensen said that Louie Armstrong had ranked second and Roger Williams third in the field of eight candidates. Performance fee for the Kingston Trio is $3,500. Armstrong and Williams each ask $2,250.

Contract Isn't Binding

After discussion, the senate instructed the Concert Committee to make a non-binding contract with the Kingston Trio effective for 10 days. Before the contract expires, the senate must decide whether or not to make it binding.

Because the college provides no financial backing for the concert, senators discussed the practicability of the undertaking. Charge of two dollars per ticket was suggested on the basis of the quality and popularity of the performers.

May Be No Concert

The committee is investigating the possibility of gaining financial backing in case of a deficit. If this is impossible, the Pops Concert may not be held.

Senators also discussed student questionnaires on the necessity of Student Body meetings and adequacy of government representation. Feeling was nearly balanced on both questions.

Two Want Teachers

Two staff members from the Beloit, Wis., Public Schools will be on campus Thursday, Feb. 4, at 8:30 a.m. to interview teacher candidates for the 1960-61 school year. They are interested in both primary and secondary teachers, according to Miss Mattie Harms, in charge of the Placement Bureau here.

Five Will Debate At Cornell Today

Five male members of the debate council are at the Cornell College Cross Examination Debate Tournament in Mount Vernon today.

Sophomores Bill Goetz, Dallas Jobnson and Al Putz; junior Bill Schoroeder; and senior Dean Engbrecht will discuss the national debate proposition, "Resolved, That Congress should have the right to reverse the decision of the Supreme Court."

Loan Money Available

The 40th Defense Loan was issued last Wednesday, according to H. C. Engelbrecht, college business manager. The grant was made through the National Defense Student Loan Program started at Wartburg late in the spring of last year.

Under this program students borrow money for their college education from the Federal Government with Wartburg furnishing one-ninth and the government supplying eight-ninths. Students bave 10 years after college graduation to pay back the loan. The amount of money thus far loaned to Wartburg students totals $17,488.

If students go into the field of teaching, 10 per cent of their loans may be deducted each year for five years.

Convo Schedules Meets, Pastor

Faculty and Student Body meetings are scheduled for Tuesday's convocation period.

On Thursday, the Rev. Gerald Nerenhausen, associate pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church bere, will speak at the worship service.

AND THAT'S HOW IT GOES

School Spirit Lag Is Common Drag According To Nation's Campus Voices

By Phil Truckenbrod

Lagging school spirit has been the biggest topic shared by college newspapers during the past few weeks.

Valparaiso University's The Torch reported a "discussion of the decline of spirit among Valpo students in recent years. Although the discussion was concerned with athletics in particular, it is evident that the problem extends into other areas of university affairs as well.

'Ho-hum' Spreads

". . . If the campus is adopting the relatively ho-hum attitude toward sports that some of the coaches see developing, perhaps it is an indication of a broader basic indifference that might be very significant."

In an interview appearing in The Rollins Sandspur, Dudley DeGroot, a professor at Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., said, "I think there is a lot of potential school spirit at Rollins, but on this campus, as well as any other campus, the spirit must be organized."

Committee Rallied

DeGroot went on to suggest a "Rally Committee" which would go on from one school year to the next and be charged with the task of leading school spirit activities.

Tbe Manitou Messenger of St. Olaf College, Nortbfield, Minn., tells of a spirit builder being used in the Mid-West Conference. At tbe end of the basketball season a tropby will be awarded to the audience showing the most spirit and "sportsmanlike enthusiasm." The decision will rest with the visiting players.

One For Every Rule

The University of San Francisco is evidently an exception. Retiring coach Pbil Woolpert in a letter to the San Francisco Foghorn speaks of "my references to the U.S.F. student body spirit as so outstanding that many victories were conceived in this enthusiasm."

In other areas of campus life, The Concordian of Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., announces the formation of a "Mac The Knife Club" at Concordia for the furtherance of jazz "on the cool side."

According to The Midland of Midland College, Fremont, Neb., an electronic coin changing machine has been installed in the men's dorm. What luxury!

EDITORIALS—

New Year's Resolutions?

A new year dawns and with it comes the proverbial resolutions. We'll submit our partial list of hints and hope:

Oppie's girls — Resolve to forget their pencils before going to convo.

Groundskeepers — Be ready to sand sidewalks as soon as they're iced. (We mean all sidewalks, too.)

Drape Construction Co. — just a little faster on the auditorium, please!

Wisconsinites — Remember, that life is no bowl of roses.

Educational Policies Committee — A fair trial is all we ask.

All Wartburgers — Take heart while marching across the College Hill intersection. Remember, we each have only one life to give for our corner.

Freshman Class President Denny Young — Resolve to figure out why the "A" in Knights GymnAsium is bigger than the rest of the letters.

Mrs. Grube, Cafeteria manager — (With bowed head, we'll pass the tray on this one.)

Convo Committee — Either forget your job for a year or turn it over to Nolan Cramer.

KWAR — A little more volume, huh?

Den — To get a little more atmosphere.

Fuch's Lounge — To get a little less atmosphere.

Union Director Ray Norheim (Whistler's Brother) — Translate the writing on the lamps in the Union.

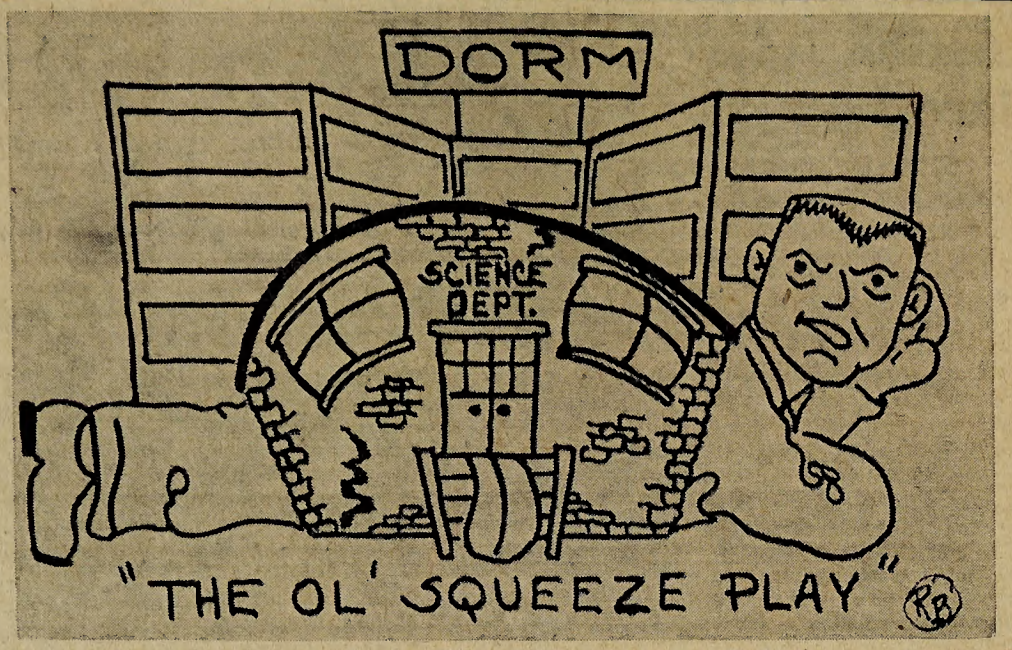
All Student Body members — Go to Student Body mee — Oh, well, guess we can't keep 'em all.

Question on the campus: Why is it that the person and you who would make perfect roommates — never are?

Students! Those of you who have exhausting semester exam schedules, take heart. You'll have a full 16-hour semester break this year.

What did one molecule of water say to another molecule of water? I'm for quitting this rink before I freeze.

Not everyone can be a first-semester student on Wednesday and a second-semester student on Thursday.



We wish to take this opportunity to defend our position for printing a signed letter written by four male students in November.

The four were openly criticized for writing the letter, and indirectly the criticism reflected on the Trumpet.

The students asked in the letter, "What happened to plans for the new Science Hall?" It was said that they could have received their answer by inquiring in the President's office.

We were aware of the matter of economics involved in that the college could borrow from the government up to 75 per cent of the money needed for building housing units.

We did not feel that this was what the letter pointed out, however. The most pertinent point of the letter, we felt, was that conditions in the Science Department are already overcrowded and why overcrowd them beyond capacity with additional students?

At any rate, we feel that the Trumpet was of service to the Student Body by printing the letter, because who ultimately learned of the reasons for building the dorm first?

Not just four students, but the entire Student Body.

Because of this outcome we feel justified in saying, "Keep the letters coming."—The Editors.

Beckers' Daughter Hurt In Accident

Wartburg president Dr. C. H. Becker and Mrs. Becker Sunday flew to Wichita, Kan., where their daughter and her family are hospitalized following an automobile accident. The Beckers will remain in Kansas until the patients are out of danger. The Trumpet wishes them a speedy recovery.

Sour Note Blown

The interviewee didn't say it and we didn't misquote him.

Nevertheless, the amount of money that could be borrowed from the government for building a dorm, as stated by Dr. Edwin T. Sandberg in a Trumpet article before Christmas, turned out wrong in print. The amount should have read 75 per cent, rather than $75,000.

Although our copy was correct, we apologize and assume full responsibility for the misprint.—The Editors.

"BUT YOU CAN'T DO THAT," grimaces Wartburg's "Big Double O", Norm Remmers as Beaver Don Nettleton gets set to orbit the basketball in soccer fashion. Knight center John Tuecke and BV pivot Jerry Sandine stand ready to settle the argument while Wartburg was clipping Buena Vista 70-59 in Knights Gym last night.

Tuecke, Hein Set Pace As Knights Topple B.V.

By Tom Kuckkahn

The Wartburg Knights stretched their conference record to 5-0 last night when they toppled Buena Vista College 70-59.

Although the Knights did not possess the form they had three nights previous when they scored 107 points against Dubuque, they still played well enough to win.

The game started slowly, but, as John Tuecke and Don Hein began to score, the Knights slipped away and led at the half 39-25.

The Axmen's superiority in rebounding was again the distinguishing factor between the two teams. Tuecke, Hein and Norm Remmers all turned in creditable performances in the battle of the backboards.

Tuecke led the Knights in the scoring department with 25 points, and Hein followed with 14. Dave Jensen, Leroy Boseneiler, Dar Oehlerich and Marv Ott all turned in scrappy performances at the guard position.

Duhawks Are Next For Bundgaardmen

Wartburg Knights, currently 5-0 in conference play and 8-2 overall, will entertain Loras College Wednesday evening in a non-conference tussle.

Loras, a Catholic College at Dubuque, is highly rated and will probably have a fast-breaking, free-shooting attack.

Duhawk to watch will be Jack Frasco, a 6'4½" senior, who already has become the third highest scorer in the history of Loras College with a three-season total of 1,277 points.

Although Loras' record is an unimpressive 1-6, it is still rated as a powerful team and could cause the Knights some anxious moments. So far this season the Knights possess a 3-2 record against non-conference competition.

Four Contests Lift Curtain On IM Cage Action

By Darrell Jobman

Four games in intramural basketball Thursday night opened a two-month hardcourt season.

Cotta tripped Grossmann II 41-40 in one of the night's big games of the American League. Van Wyngarden hit 12 points to lead Cotta, and Bixby and Ringgenberg potted 10 apiece to pace Grossmann II.

In another American League game Grossmann III rolled over Grossmann I and Basement 67-37. L. Andersen topped the third floor team with 16, while Hilgendorf meshed 12 points for the loser's cause.

In a close National League contest Grossmann III got by Vollmer House 56-52. Olesen topped all the scorers for the night with 23 points. Bennett notched 16 for Grossmann III.

Waverly easily romped past Grossmann II 70-19 in a second National League game. Simpson hit 18 to lead Waverly's even scoring. Stadtmueler and Shatz had 6 apiece in a losing effort.

Some floors have two teams, consequently, there are occasionally two different teams, one in each league, with the same name. Schedules have been posted indicating games will be played on Monday and Thursday nights in two shifts The season will last until early March.

Standings will be published in next week's Trumpet.

Picking Up Splinters

By Chuck Jepsen

Christmas vacation brought no rest for the Wartburg Knights, as they were active in three games during the two-week recess.

The day before vacation, Dec. 17, the squad completed a successful road trip, defeating Simpson and Central to remain undefeated in the conference. The scoring was balanced during the trip and the defense looked good in holding Central's high-scoring John Carle to 15 points.

In opening round play of the Tall Corn Tournament, Wartburg lost a close, hard-fought contest to Northern Illinois 73-72. Northern led by a small margin the entire second half, but the Knights lost a chance for victory by missing five shots, one a layup, in the closing minutes while trailing by a single point.

Leroy Boseneiler led the Knights with 21 points, followed by Tuecke with 16. Larry Gentry, Northern forward, was outstanding while scoring 22 points and garnering 17 rebounds.

In the consolation round the following evening, the Knights defeated Grinnell 64-62 in a game played under experimental rules. Grinnell played its second team most of the way as part of an experiment by Coach John Pfitsch. Boseneiler tallied 15 points again to pace the Knights, with Mueller, Hein and Tuecke also hitting in double figures.

On Jan. 2, the Knights defeated Augsburg 71-61. Again Wartburg's attack featured balance as Hein led with 21 points, followed by Tuecke with 17, Boseneiler 15 and Jensen 13. Wartburg led most of the way but was repeatedly pressed to win its sixth game of the year.

★ ★ ★ ★

John Tuecke was the only Wartburg player chosen on the All-Tournament team during the Tall Corn meet. Tuecke, a repeater from the previous year, scored 29 points and grabbed 18 rebounds during the two games.

Other members of the team were Northern Illinois forward Larry Gentry, the most valuable player, and guard Jim Capers; ISTC forward Jim Jackson and guard Dean Jensen.

When Wartburg played Grinnell in the consolation, only 16 free throws were shot. Free throws were shot only after two-shot fouls as a part of an experimental plan to reduce foul shots. On a common foul, the offended team received the ball out of bounds.

A poll of the fans attending the game showed that spectators had mixed reactions to the experiment, but most agreed that further trials along this line should be attempted.

Coach Ax Bundgaard tried something new in the second half against Grinnell, as the Knights played a zone defense for the first time this year.

★ ★ ★ ★

Here's a date to mark on your sports calendar: Jan. 19, when Wartburg plays currently undefeated Upper Iowa in Knights Gymnasium. The rivalry between the two schools is fierce, and both teams have excellent records at this time.

Wartburg's wrestling squad will officially open its 1960 season this afternoon in Knights Gym when the Knights tangle with Augustana of Rock Island, Ill., at 2 p.m.

The Knights already are plagued with trouble, as Roger Hildebrandt, one of the three returning lettermen, will be out with a knee injury.

According to Coach Norm Johansen, the probable starters will be Lloyd Casey, freshman from Sterling, Ill., at 123 pounds and veteran John Sternberg, junior from Traer, at 130.

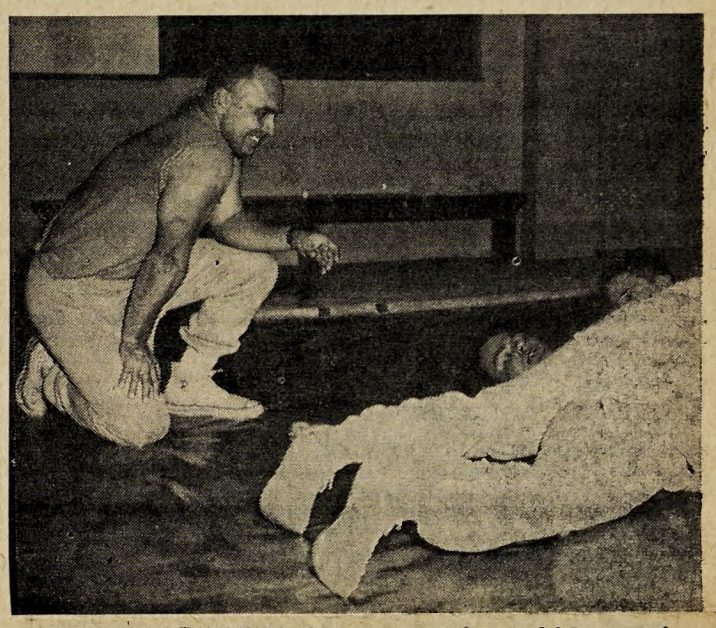
Bill Smith, freshman from Tama, will be in the 137-pound class, and Jim Mueller, freshman from Midlothian, Ill., at 147.

In the 157-pound class will be either Robert Janssen, freshman from Worthington, Minn., or Dick Rausenberger, freshman from Iowa Falls.

The 167-pound class is also undecided, with Janssen or Ron Saathoff, junior from Oketo, Kan., fighting for this spot in today's meet.

Veteran Alan Hassman, sophomore from New Hampton, will be in the 177-pound class, and Leroy Scharnhorst, freshman from Waverly, is slated for the heavyweight division.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 the Knights will entertain Grinnell College at Knights Gym with the same men slated to start in their respective positions.



JO'S GRINNING, but two members of his wrestling squad arent as they strain on the practice mats. Norm Johansen's boys take on Augustana of Rock Island, Ill., in the season opener this afternoon.

KWAR Working On New Schedule

Program director of KWAR, Arlow Bice, announces that the campus station is in the process of setting up a new program schedule.

KWAR plans to carry nine hours of education programs for the National Association of Educational Broadcasters.

OUR CHURCH, produced by the Evangelical Lutheran Church, will be a new daily feature. Bice stated that in view of the coming merger many of the programs will be concerned with the activities of all three merging bodies.

Beta Changes Data

Tri-Beta will hold its monthly meeting Thursday night instead of Wednesday, according to Dr. Hertel of the Biology Department, because of a conflict with the Loras basketball game being played here. High light of the meeting will be a speech by Dr. Allison on the subject of fungi.

Wandering With Wandersee

By Winnie

Out of respect for the fact that vacation is all over and semester tests are only two weeks away, there were no club meetings this past week — or at least they remained unpublicized. It's too bad the same policy was not used for classes. The first week is always rather a shock.

But here's good news — the week will end right. SEA is holding an ice skating party tonight. The time is 7:30, everyone is invited, and refreshments will be served. Furthermore, it's all free. They just don't come much cheaper than that.

The regular SEA meeting will be held Monday, Jan. 11.

Mr. Don Vetter, teacher and principal in the Blue Island, Ill., school system, is the speaker for the occasion.

Speaking of skating — I imagine the event will be held some place other than the W-Club skating pond. No offense meant, but the pond seems to be suited to the more athletic type — the rugged individualists who like their skating bumpy.

Monday, Jan. 11, is the date for the Business Students' meeting. It will be held in Wartburg Hall Lounge at 7 p.m. The speaker will be Bill Pape of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. His topic will be "Careers in Life Insurance."

The nice thing about the Business Students Association is that refreshments are always served at the meetings.

Phebes will be meeting this Thursday, Jan. 14, at 7 p.m. The Faculty Lounge is the location, and the program will be "Symbols of the Church."

If you have something important to do tomorrow night about 8, postpone it and go to the Pops Concert.
